Five Years Strategic Plan (2072/73—2076/77)

Chapter-One: Introduction

1.1 Background and Rationale

University Grants Commission Nepal is offering opportunities to the community campuses to improve their educational quality and to strengthen institutional capability. As such, UGC has launched Higher Education Reform Project for Quality Assurance and Accreditation (QAA) program. Committed to follow the terms and conditions of the UGC, Damak Multiple Campus has prepared a Five years Strategic Plan (2016-2020) viewing to establish the campus as an academic centre of excellence for educational quality and sustainable development.

1.2 Purposes of the plan

- i. To improve and develop the physical, educational and administrative status of the campus.
- ii. To excel the performance with due responsibility.
- iii. To increase the active participation of the stakeholder for developing the feeling of ownership to accomplish the assigned responsibilities.
- iv. To identify the local resources and use them for the campus.
- v. To increase the access of underprivileged, Dalits, Madeshis, Janajati and ladies for higher education.
- vi. To enhance the campus as an academic research centre.
- vii. To improve the institution growth and development of the campus.
- viii. To implement the planned programs for the proper use of the grants provided by UGC.
- ix. To run community-centered programs and extend consultancy services in the community.

1.3 Process of Preparing plan

In course of preparing the plan, DMC has conducted workshops, seminars, meetings on the direct involvement of the stakeholders. They've received and analyzed the previous activities, interacted among the groups, preceded their subjective presentations on various aspects of the campus, discussed with the experts and taken their suggestions then finally bring out the documents as the strategic plan of the campus.

1.4 Stakeholders

On the active participation of the following stakeholders, the draft of the strategic plan has been prepared:

- i. Members of Campus Assembly

- ii. Campus Management Committee
- iii. Campus Chief
- iv. Assistant Campus Chiefs
- v. HERP committee , DMC

(See annex no:1 for the name list of the participants)

1.5 Major components of the strategic plan

DMC has discussed with the stakeholders far and wide to achieve the goal, objectives and to implement the strategies. The campus has analyzed on issues like the present status of the campus, on-going programs, incomplete works, its present requirements, then on the basis of the outcome of the discussion, analysis and interactions ,and on the basis of the vision, mission, it reviewed its goals and objectives. The strategic plan has contained the major areas, viz, management and institutional development, infrastructural development, management for the sustainable economic growth, research, publication& extension, extracurricular activities, good governance, and gender equity and inclusiveness.

1.6 Expectations of the plan

The strategic plan determines the actions and activities to have done in the future. It is an instrument by which the requirements are identified, opportunities and challenges are evaluated. Since, the plan has been prepared on the direct participation of the stakeholders, it is believed that it promotes the feeling of ownership and responsibility which will certainly help for the institutional development of the campus. It is expected that this plan will obviously assist the campus in the following ways:

- i. It helps to upgrade quality measures of the campus.
- ii. It promotes the stakeholders with the feeling of ownership.
- iii. It increases the participation of the stakeholders for the implementation of the programs.

- iv. It helps for the proper use of resources in the campus.
- v. It tracks out the destination of the campus.
- vi. It gradually helps to solve the problems related to the campus.
- vii. It helps to maintain transparency to the campus authority.
- viii. It promotes assurance and relation with the assisting cell, units and authorities.
- ix. It works as the important document for the institutional development and effective management of the campus.
- x. It assists for the proper implementation of the aids to have gained in the future.
- xi. It helps to improve the educational and academic activities of the campus.
- xii. It helps to promote research culture in the campus.

Chapter: 4 SWOT Analysis of the campus

SWOT analysis is one of the major components while preparing strategic plan of any institutions. The analysis, on one hand identifies the actual picture of the institution based on its strength, weaknesses internally and externally obtained opportunities and threats, and on the other hand, it provides a greater base to pave a better path for its institutional and overall development. In course of the preparation of the strategic plan of DMC, the inclusive participation of its stakeholders, the present status of the campus has been identified as follows:

4.1 Strengths

1. Recognition of a QAA Certified leading community campus in the eastern region.
2. Student friendly and student oriented teaching.
3. Sense of belongingness form society.
4. Subject based/faculty based outreach activities.
5. Conduction of research activities by faculty members and students.
6. The formation and implementation of campus rules and regulations (Campus Bidhan).
7. Formation and effectiveness of educational organization structure.
8. Commitment and unity among management committee.
9. Development and construction of physical infra-structure as per the present requirement.
10. Satisfactory participation of stakeholders in various areas of campus concerns.
11. Trained and experienced faculties.
12. Management of separate department chambers.
13. Co-operation among campus MC, administration, lecturers and students.
14. Co-operative role of the student organizations.
15. Provision of scholarship and assistance for blind, handicapped, poor, dalit, janajati, Madheshi and brilliant students.
